YAQUI INDIAN SHOT.

Information from Hermosillo received at Nogales last Sunday morning conveyed the intelligence that a Yaqui was caught Saturday putting cyanide of potassium in the reservoir from which is piped the municipal water supply of that city. When detected he had emptied into the reservoir a can that held about fifteen pounds of the poison. Without a doubt he had not been taken in the act he would have returned with another supply and soon rendered the water supply of the city a deadly poison in those hands of people. The dastardly wretch was taken out by a file of soldiers and executed immediately.
